Create a Trailer for an Ulster-Scots Action-Adventure Movie

Students will make a Movie Trailer for an action-adventure film exploring different elements of Ulster-Scots history and identity.

Many aspects of this history make for powerful drama whether it is the heroic defence of the walled city in the great Siege of 1688-9... the battles of Antrim and Ballynahinch in 1798...the American War of Independence...or the experience of the Ulster-Scots settlers on the American frontier.

Create a Trailer for an Ulster-Scots Action-Adventure Movie

The Movie Trailer should feature moments of dramatic action with characters locked in conflict on the battlefield. There is scope to depict both tragedy and triumph.

Students will work in three separate production teams.

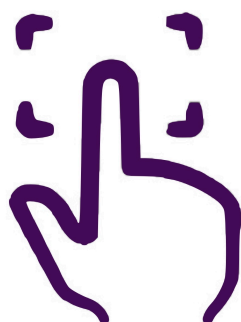

One group will research the historical sources contained in Module 2.

They will write a short script for their trailer based on their research.

They will select a series of images from the illustrations supplied to use in their trailer.

Feel free to use the Glossary which has been compiled from the Ulster-Scots words that appear across the Modules on this site.
